1. Mission, Vision and Values

1.1 Mission

The mission of Aliza Zara Legacy is to create a lasting and positive impact on the lives of the less privileged by supporting them, providing empowerment, and promoting equal opportunities. We strive to improve living conditions and strengthen the resilience of vulnerable communities by providing access to essential basic needs, education, healthcare, economic opportunities, and social support. Our foundation is committed to inclusivity, social justice, and creating a society where everyone has equal opportunities to reach their full potential. We believe in building bridges, fostering empathy, and collaborating with partners to effect sustainable change and create a better future for those most vulnerable in our society.

1.2 Vision

Our vision is a world where all individuals, regardless of their background or circumstances, have equal opportunities to thrive and lead a dignified and fulfilled life. We aim for a society where there is no place for poverty, exclusion, or inequality. A world where the less privileged not only have access to basic needs such as food, shelter, education, and healthcare but also have the opportunities to develop their own potential, pursue their dreams, and become active contributors in building their communities. We believe in an inclusive and just society where empathy, solidarity, and equal opportunities prevail, and where everyone has the chance to fully participate in and contribute to a prosperous and supportive community.

2.1 Activities

Aliza Zara Legacy Foundation is dedicated to a wide range of initiatives, categorized into seven core areas:

- Orphanage Projects, providing support to orphaned children and vulnerable families.
- Water Projects, aiming to improve access to clean drinking water.
- Food Projects, strengthening community food security.
- Education Projects, aimed at fostering educational opportunities.
- Self-Sustaining Projects, focusing on community empowerment.
- Health Projects, dedicated to improved healthcare and education.
- Emergency Relief Projects, responding swiftly to disasters and emergencies.

These categories constitute the pillars of our commitment to a better society and form the backbone of our humanitarian efforts.

2.2. Project

- Orphan projects

The irreplaceable love of a parent is unparalleled, and the loss of it is exceptionally traumatic for children in developing countries. Illness or poverty has led thousands of children to lose one or both parents. For many, there is scarcely any time to process this unbearable loss. Many orphaned children must exert all their energy simply to survive on the streets. Aliza Zara Legacy closely collaborates with local partners in developing countries to support hundreds of orphaned children. This is accomplished through food projects, provision of clothing, access to clean drinking water, and contributions to the construction of shelters.

- Water projects

Globally, 840 million people lack access to clean water. Billions of people are forced to draw water from contaminated sources. Drinking polluted water leads to terrible diseases such as cholera, typhoid, and diarrhea, claiming the lives of millions of people annually, especially children. In many parts of the world, people, primarily women and children, spend countless hours in hazardous terrain, solely to collect water.

Granting water means granting life. Aliza Zara Legacy, in collaboration with local partners, implements various projects to make clean drinking water available. This initiative not only halts the spread of diseases but also provides children the opportunity to attend school, allows women to care for their families or work, and supports communities in becoming healthier, more resilient, and less dependent.

- Food projects

A growing food shortage poses a serious issue worldwide, resulting in fatalities, especially among children. In an effort to alleviate hunger, Aliza Zara Legacy supports various food projects in collaboration with local partners. These initiatives are carried out in areas where there is a chronic shortage of food. Additionally, supporters of Aliza Zara Legacy donate goats, sheep, and cows during the sacrifice festival.

Aliza Zara Legacy aims to make a meaningful contribution, no matter how small, to combat malnutrition and famine.

- Education

Education lies at the core of personal development, extending beyond mere literacy. It lays the groundwork for social welfare, economic progress, security, gender equality, and peace. It also provides a first line of defense against diseases by teaching children how to protect themselves and their families. Aliza Zara Legacy endeavors to make high-quality education accessible to as many children as possible.

To achieve this, we not only construct mosques in remote villages but also engage in various educational initiatives.

- Health projects

Healthcare is considered a fundamental human right. Aliza Zara Legacy Foundation conducts various healthcare projects in the countries where it operates. These projects include providing support for treatments in hospitals and health centers, as well as supplying medicines and medical supplies to children and young adults.

- Self-sustaining projects

Within self-sustaining projects, we offer support to the needy, orphans, widows, street children, homeless individuals, and the sick. This support can take various forms, such as shelter, food provision, water supply, clothing, sewing machines, wheelchairs, and gifts to support agriculture and livestock, such as animals.

- Emergency relief projects

In close collaboration with local partners familiar with the regions in developing countries, Aliza Zara Legacy can provide rapid and effective emergency relief after disasters of various types and magnitudes. This includes organizing food programs, providing clean drinking water, supplying medicines, setting up tents for the affected, offering winter aid, and other essential provisions.

2.3. Project Development

Aliza Zara Legacy implements projects in developing countries using two methods for project development:

1. Aliza Zara Legacy's own initiatives

- As an organization, Aliza Zara Legacy occasionally develops projects independently to address the needs of impoverished communities in developing countries.
- Occasionally, the foundation receives project proposals from generous donors. If these proposals align with our mission and present a suitable balance between demand and supply, we consider their implementation. However, such proposals rarely qualify.
- Generally, the organization initiates and develops projects itself, often due to the practical advantages stemming from the knowledge and experience of local organizations that advise us.

2. Requests from local partners

- In some cases, we directly receive project proposals, such as emergency projects, from our local partner organizations.
- These requests include assembling an appropriate budget, enabling preparations for the implementation of these projects.

These two approaches to project development allow us to be flexible and adapt to the specific needs and circumstances of the communities we aim to support.

2.4. Project implementation and Progress

The implementation of Aliza Zara Legacy's projects varies in time and approach, depending on the nature and specific characteristics of each project. Given the diversity of projects, we do not adhere to strict deadlines, as these may vary from project to project.

Generally, each project commences upon approval from the board for execution. Once the required budget is determined and/or secured, preparations for the projects begin. Emergency projects or initiatives during Ramadan and Qurban periods are naturally completed within these specific timelines. Projects that have concluded or are temporarily inactive are taken offline from the website until they resume or until further relevant updates.

Conversely, certain projects, such as shelters and sustainable initiatives like our water projects, do not have clearly defined end dates. These projects represent long-term efforts that are continually developed and supported. Our commitment to these projects extends over an extended period, as we continuously strive for their ongoing growth and impact.

This flexible approach enables us to implement our diverse initiatives thoughtfully and effectively, focusing on the unique needs and sustainability of each project.

2.5. Realistic Feasibility

Before discussing specific projects within the board, clear and realistic agreements are established with the relevant partners regarding the objectives, feasibility, and intended outcomes of the proposed projects. Following this preparatory phase, the proposed project undergoes a thorough evaluation within the board, culminating in a well-considered decision about the application.

Throughout the entire process, we maintain close communication with the involved partners, monitoring the progress of the projects and being open to addressing any unexpected circumstances that may arise. This transparent communication lies at the core of our collaboration, aiming for an effective and successful project implementation.

2.6. Evaluation Criteria

Aliza Zara Legacy operates in 7 countries, including the Netherlands, where it implements various projects aligned with its mission. To carry out these projects in the respective countries, Aliza Zara Legacy maintains close partnerships with carefully selected partner organizations and hospitals. These partners are recognized as charitable institutions in accordance with the prevailing legal guidelines of the respective countries. These strategic alliances, driven by a deep commitment to humanitarian goals, form the foundations for the effective execution of our global projects and contribute to the sustainable development of communities.

2.7. Funding of Aid Projects

Aliza Zara Legacy relies on generous gifts and donations from our dedicated donors to bring our projects to fruition. With commitment, we conduct various online and offline fundraising campaigns for each project, providing the public with the opportunity to contribute to all aid projects. The funding for our organization primarily comes from the following groups of donors:

Individuals

- These are donations directly made online by individuals to our organization, expressing heartwarming support.

Companies

- Businesses and enterprises support our mission through donations transferred via bank transfers, contributing to achieving our goals.

Foundations

- Contributions from foundations, schools, associations, and other institutions aid our endeavors. This support is invaluable in realizing our relief initiatives.

These diverse groups of generous contributors form the backbone of our funding, enabling us to pursue our mission and create a lasting impact for those who need our assistance the most.

3. Collaboration

3.1 Local Partner Organization

As mentioned in section 2.6, Aliza Zara Legacy closely collaborates with local partner organizations registered as charitable institutions and hospitals. This ensures the independence and neutrality of our collaborative partners and the joint projects we undertake.

Before entering into a partnership with a local organization, a thorough reliability check is conducted based on reliability criteria and frameworks established by the Aliza Zara Legacy board. If the organization meets these criteria, a trial collaboration is initiated through small-scale pilot projects with a limited budget.

Collaboration with these partners always commences with a project proposal outlining the needs of their country and/or region. The board subsequently analyzes this proposal. Upon approval of the proposal, project funding is executed via bank transactions. During the project, the local partner provides Aliza Zara Legacy with relevant information and visual documentation during implementation. For large-scale projects, Aliza Zara Legacy receives a comprehensive report detailing the activities of the collaborative partners.

Furthermore, periodic discussions occur with similar aid organizations in the Netherlands. These interactions sometimes lead to collaborations in developing countries. This exchange of knowledge and experience contributes to more effective aid delivery and a greater impact on our projects.

3.2 Other Partners

In addition to our involvement in aid projects abroad, Aliza Zara Legacy also focuses on supporting vulnerable communities within the Netherlands. In close collaboration with local foundations and other organizations, we provide assistance to the less fortunate in our own country. This includes, for example, providing food packages, clothing, and warm meals for the homeless, along with other essential necessities.

Furthermore, in partnership with hospitals, Aliza Zara Legacy organizes special activities for sick children. During these events, the sick children receive a 'goodie bag,' and we supply toys for the playrooms in hospitals, allowing the children to enjoy playful and positive moments amidst their medical treatments.

These initiatives underscore our commitment to improving lives, both locally and globally, and we continue to strive to make a difference in the lives of those who are most vulnerable.
